IRON MOUNTAIN—Dickinson Iron Community Services Agency (DICSA) is sponsoring the 11th annual Senior Expo in Dickinson County Friday, Sept. 14, at the YMCA in Iron Mountain, from 9 a.m. to noon, and in Iron County Friday, Sept. 21, at the Iron River Senior Center from 9 a.m. to noon.

The Expo is free to all area seniors and no registration is necessary.

__PUBLIC__

In addition, lunch will be served at no charge to all Expo participants at noon at the Iron Mountain Senior Center and at noon at the Iron River Senior Center.

The Expo will feature organizations offering information and services pertaining to all aspects of senior living.

Limited free health screenings will be available throughout the Expo with the various vendors.

There will be drawings for door prizes and free giveaways.

The Expo is open to the public and free of charge.

Registration for a vendor booth is due by Tuesday, Sept. 4.

For more information, contact Sandier at (906) 774-2256, ext. 213, or (800) 211-1696, ext. 213.

As a non-profit community action agency, it is the mission of the Dickinson Iron Community Services Agency to focus and coordinate all available resources upon the goal of enabling individuals to attain the opportunities to become self-sufficient, thereby improving their quality of life.

To this end, DICSA sponsors a variety of programs and services intended to promote self-determination and independence for everyone in our community.

Programs such as; In-Home Services, Family Ties Adult Center, Home delivered meals, congregate meals, housing and housing rehab services, senior and youth volunteer programs, emergency needs, commodity foods, homeless housing programs, and transportation services.