'Ask the DNR' to air on WNMU-TV in the Upper Peninsula on May 31

Written by Janet Rohde Tuesday, May 29, 2012 1:17 PM -

MARQUETTE—"Ask the DNR" returns to WNMU-TV Channel 13 in the Upper Peninsula Thursday, May 31, at 8 p.m. Eastern Time.

The show will focus on boating, fishing, recreation and state trails.

PUBLIC

The hour-long program features a panel of DNR employees taking questions from viewers who call in during the live show to 800-227-9668, or submit email questions before Thursday, May 31, to DNR Communications Representative Debbie Munson Badini at munsonbadinid@michigan.gov

Questions are answered live on the show; any questions not answered before the end of the episode will be answered by phone call to the viewer.

Thursday's show will feature Kyle Publiski, conservation officer from Chippewa County; Bill Scullon, wildlife biologist from Norway; Rob Katona, trails analyst from Marquette, and George Madison, fisheries supervisor from Baraga.

"Ask the DNR" is produced five times a year on WNMU-TV 13, the public television station in Marquette.

It is aired live on public television stations throughout the Upper Peninsula and northeastern Wisconsin and typically replays the following day at noon.

Please consult local television listings to confirm replay times for the program.